

Career e-Volutions Express – Target Work. This is a 2-week online workshop for job seekers focusing on getting back to work with their current skills. With access via the Internet, you can participate at times convenient to your schedule, while our structure helps you stay on track. You will have one-to-one personalized support throughout from an e-Facilitator.

Target Work is a 2-week online workshop for participants focusing on immediate work options.

Target Work is ideal if you:

- Are ready to actively job search with your current skills.
- Would benefit from some career exploration to further identify and refine work options.
- Are willing to customize your job search approach, and are ready to target your job search tools.
- Are able to commit to approximately 3 hrs per day of workshop participation.

Topics:

Getting Started - Becoming familiar with the online workshop environment

What's Changed? - Identifying individual work needs and changes in the labour market

Career Options - Identifying possible career options related to your transferable skills

Job Search - Focusing your job search and targeting your resume, cover letter, and interview skills

After actively completing the workshop, you will have identified work targets matching your skills and also have the targeted tools for job search success. This workshop can be an invaluable aid to your active job searching.
